It Will come to Pass

by
Rev. Joan Hart

Isaiah 42:9 tells us we have the right to expect something new from the Lord every day, and we can expect to have more and more experiences of God's goodness.

It says nothing compares to what He is going to do. So what He is about to do means there is no comparison as to what He is about to do. Think of all the good things God has already done. But what we have seen up to this point, it's nothing compared to what He is going to do.

We need to expect and declare for the greater things of God. This is a new season and it is going to get greater and greater in every area of our lives. There is a new wave that is here and we are in the midst of it now.

Ps. 115:12-14 says you are blessed of the Lord. It means increase, more and more. The Lord shall increase you more and more. Increase means greater and greater. God will take you from nothing to something!

We want to be greater in so many ways. We want to have more and more people come to a saving knowledge of Jesus. We want to see people healed of everything! We want to see people hunger for the Lord, hunger for His Word and of course hunger to know Him!

Since I have had my thyroid taken out, my voice is quite raspy. I heard Jerry Savelle say he has a raspy throat too and I heard him confess it is getting better and better. He has the faith to believe that he is speaking those things that are not, as though they are.

I too have the faith to believe that God is fixing my voice. After all, He is the one Who has called me to preach, to share my testimony and to help teach the gifts of the Spirit as well as, how to walk in the Spirit. If I don't have a voice, I can't do that.

What Satan meant for harm, God is taking care of.

God has just begun to pour out His Spirit and He is pouring it out greater and greater, but you need to receive it. You need to learn how to take what belongs to you.

There are also ways to sow when the increase comes to you. You can be a Pentecostal handshaker! Hide money in the pockets of others, or in their purse without telling them you did it. Sow it and name it! Use your faith, so it can grow bigger and bigger.

God is always delighted when we use our faith and keep our mouth in line with our faith. The words of our mouths must line up with God's Word. Thank you Lord, that my faith is growing and I am confessing what I believe. See that's how come we have to be so careful what we speak. We must confess the Word and then step back, and watch God do the miraculous.

Speak the Word, Speak the Word, Speak the Word and then Speak the Word again. I hear people say, "I'm so tired of fighting all the time." Well then sit down and thank the Lord that He is answering your prayers. He has good things for you. He has plans to prosper you and not for evil.

You receive, or increase by the way you speak or pray. We have to believe to go forward!

Our best days are not behind us, they are ahead of us. God has great things for you. Increasing more and more, is God's plan.

In Job 8:7 God said, though the beginning was small, the later end will greatly increase. That's where we are headed. We are greatly increasing. So the older we get, the greater our increase will be. Don't give up, stay in faith, don't stop sowing or praying. Change is coming!

We will end up better than ever. I Cor. 2:9, 10 says, "Eye has not seen nor ear heard what has entered the heart of man the things God has for man." The Holy Spirit will reveal to us what is to be, or what is to come. God is preparing things for us. He keeps all things ready for us. We must expect something new and know God has it all in His time.

God has so much goodness for us, but we haven't even tapped into it yet. We have to get going and believe it. Stop looking at things the way they are! Everything is subject to change for the good. Flow with it. Stop digging in your heels and go with it. Stop looking at your poverty and see yourself rich in the Lord. He doesn't want to leave us where we are.

God told Abram I will make a great nation of you. He did it and now he is famous.

God has something for you too. He wants to make something great of your life. He will excel you in His due time. Due time does come, because He said so!

We have been in right standing with God, so since we are, then we have favor with God. God marks us with His favor. I'm blessed. It was all in the plan of God.

God has chosen each of you! Take time to think about how blessed you are. He chose you, He chose your spouse, and He chose you to work for Him. We are blessed. It's unbelievable to even think God has something greater for us. NO it isn't! God has chosen us for these times. We only have to believe. God will do the rest. Believe, and He will do it. Trust and obey, for there is no other way, but to trust and obey. Yes, I believe all God has told me. He does not lie!

Whatever God says about my future, my job is to believe! I am standing in faith! I have the favor of God and all I have to do is believe Him for the outcome.

Years ago He told me to write down everything that was happening to me, because someday I would write books about my life to help others. I believed. Today I have actually published four books and another one is being edited now. There are more books inside of me and I trust that He will bring them out for such a time as this. I don't advertise them, but they are on my web site. See all I have to do is trust and obey. The favor of God that is on my life will bring those things to pass that He told me about. He didn't say when, but it's my job to believe.

It's my time to believe that God has opened doors for me to share what He has put within me. I'm not kicking those doors open to get it to come to pass. God will do it. I have His favor and all things are going to become greater and greater.

Living for God and serving Him is so refreshing. It is fulfilling and life-satisfying.

God's favor is on me. I see it at times, not always in the big things, but in the little. When we went to Europe this last Spring, I was having trouble with thyroid regulation. My thyroid had been taken out due to cancer and the medicines were not balanced yet. I didn't think I should go to Europe because I had no strength and had terrible pain in my ankles and feet. I was weak and tired and I didn't want to goof up the trip for my husband and the couple who was going with us.

My hubby had been wanting me to go to Europe with him for several years and he had already paid for the tickets. I tried to warn our friends that I just didn't know how much I could do. I had to believe God that I could even walk in the airport to get to wherever we needed to be.

It was very hard to walk because I was so weak. There were days that I just kept saying, "The Lord is my strength" over and over. It got me through some difficult times. My hubby was understanding and I had favor with him. He would drive me as close to the door of the area where we were going as he could. He didn't get mad when I couldn't walk another step without a few minutes rest. He gave up seeing certain things because I was not able to walk there. I might have been able to walk to the place, but I knew I was too weak to walk back.

He and I sat in the car and waited for the couple to go do what was on the agenda and we rested. One day I was so exhausted I didn't even want to get in the car and go anywhere. I needed a day of rest so badly and later found out my husband did as well. We took in as much as we could and then walked to the car. Got in and waited for our friends to come back. An hour and a half later I awoke, feeling better.

God worked out so many things for us. There were times my husband and I would be waiting in the car for them to come back or just having time by ourselves where we would laugh and talk about something that had happened earlier.

My husband and I both had favor of the Lord, with parking, our rooms, food, etc. The beautiful mountains were such a blessing! I had always wanted to see the Swiss Alps since a child and there I was, standing on the mountain top. Favor! The weather was cool. And it was not raining! We walked in the clouds! God worked out every detail. He knew my health was not up to par, but I continued to confess that I was the healed of the Lord, and I am sure that is what kept me going. I was not about to let the devil rob me of this trip of a lifetime. We were celebrating 50 years of marriage which is the favor of God too! We were given a free gift at a store just because Dean told her we were celebrating our 50th anniversary. Favor! It was an adorable German cup, saucer and spoon in a beautiful Christmas box.

We all have the favor of God every day! I know that He has so much more for us in the future. We just have to step up to the plate and believe as we continue to confess the truth of the Word. His Word is truth and it does come to pass.

A week ago I had an open vision of something for the future and I asked God to give me confirmation of the vision through the Scriptures. The vision was on Saturday morning and the following Monday, one of the ladies on my staff told me she had a Scripture for me from the Lord. It was exactly what I needed. Favor of the Lord again.

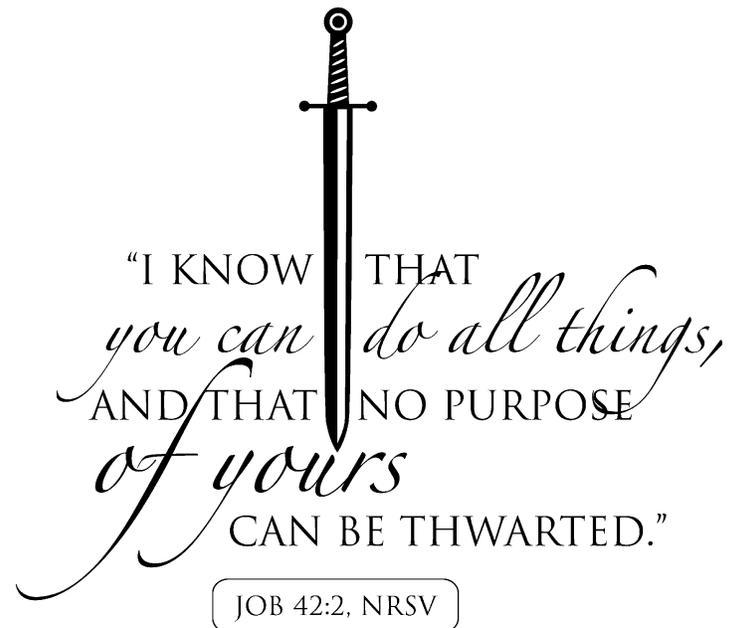

Never doubt that you have God's favor in your life. Stop complaining and realize God is not done. Things have not been completed in His Word yet! He is pouring out His Spirit! His favor will continue to flow as this outpouring comes greater and greater. Look for it, expect it, speak it, it will come to pass.

"My words will not pass away."

Unforgiveness & offense

By
Rev. Joan Hart

God is moving all over pouring out His Spirit upon the lost and upon His children. He wants to see the world come to know Him as their Savior before He comes to take us all to heaven. We have to be ready in our hearts for this outpouring.

Many have been hurt and have walked away from the church, blaming the church for their hurt, when actually it was because they really didn't want to accept the responsibility of forgiving others. An offense was taken and so they think they have to blame someone. The only problem with this is that they are only hurting themselves.

When we have been offended, we are to forgive instantly in our heart and then ask God to heal the hurt. If we don't do that, we harbor unforgiveness and it opens the door to the enemy to create all sorts of havoc in our lives. We must humble ourselves and forgive others no matter what they say or do.

Jesus is the best example we have. He was not accepted, He was abused verbally and He ended up on the cross beaten, stabbed and with a crown of thorns on His head. Now that is certainly reason to be upset with people. Hey, He could have told them He was Jesus, the King of kings, their Healer, and their Provider. But He didn't retaliate, ever!

When the crowds wanted to throw Him over the cliff, He didn't give excuses for what He did, He just walked away. When He tried to teach the truth and they called Him a heretic, He still loved them and continued to reach people with His love and the message of Salvation.

He had trouble with others from the time of His birth. Herod tried to find Him and have Him put to death. It didn't work. When He was in the temple teaching, they were amazed at His knowledge but they still didn't receive Him.

He was rejected the whole time He walked the earth and is still rejected today. He always walked in forgiveness and never took an offense.

Christmas is coming soon and my prayer is that people will forgive others, let go of their offenses, and allow God to heal their hearts.

Jesus came that we might have life and have it abundantly. We can't allow the door to the enemy to be wide open with offenses and unforgiveness and still expect to have abundant life. The enemy will come in and rob you of anything and everything. Stop him! Confess your sin of taking an offense and of being mad at someone. Let go of your unforgiveness and seal the door shut so the enemy cannot come in.

Celebrate Jesus!

We celebrate the birth of Jesus and know why He came, but we must remember why He came. To set you free! He is coming back again for all who are ready to walk in forgiveness and who walk in love. I didn't say it would be easy, but it is right! We don't want to miss His return because we are so self-centered. Swallow your pride, confess your sin of unforgiveness and of taking an offense and be free!

You will see doors open that God wants open and doors shut that He wants shut. He has so much for you! He loves you and has a wonderful future for you.

Take time this Christmas to read the story of Jesus birth yourself and then continue to read it every day and see how Jesus handled all the criticism. It will change your life.

Have a Merry, Merry Christmas!
